

Altana advises on sale of RemplaFrance to Adecco Medical

Altana advised the shareholders of RemplaFrance, a company specialized in the recruitment of healthcare professionals, on its sale to Adecco Medical, the leader in human resources in the healthcare sector.

In the current healthcare situation, the combination of these two companies is intended to enable the development of new digital solutions to facilitate relationships between healthcare teams and institutions, as well as to meet their increased recruitment needs.

The two entities will develop a panel of solutions for healthcare providers to allow them to fill in their agenda and support them in their professional career path.

Through this transaction, Altana once again demonstrates its leading expertise in the healthcare and life sciences sector. ●

Legal advisors on this transaction:

- Altana's team was composed of Fabien Pouchot (Partner), Aurore Lacroix (Associate) and Eléonore Vucher-Bondet (Associate).
- Adecco Medical is advised by August Debouzy, with Julien Aucomte (Partner), Laure Khemiri (Associate) and Coralie Foucault (Associate).

ABOUT ALTANA

Altana is an independent multispecialist Paris-based business law firm, with an high sectoral and international approach. With over 80 lawyers, including 21 partners, Altana assists french and foreign groups, and their managers, in the most complex and crosscutting cases, mainly in strongly regulated activities sectors • altanalaw.com

PRESS CONTACT

Dominique Gillet • dgillet@altanalaw.com
+33 1 79 97 90 01 • 06 79 89 10 29

Louise Henry • louise.henry@lesroismages.fr
+33 1 41 10 08 03 • 06 84 34 55 35